	From	To

Students who are non-native English speakers must show evidence of their English language proficiency and provide results of any examinations taken. Admission to the University is conditional on a satisfactory English language qualification, such as IELTS or TOEFL, and you should attach a copy of the English language test result with your application form.

NOTE: Students who apply to start the Intensive English language programme in April must take the IELTS for UKVI test.

English language levels required for admission to the JYA programme can be found at the JYA webpage.

Please contact Sussex Abroad (Inbound.SussexAbroad@sussex.ac.uk) if you have any questions about English language requirements.

Academic reference

Independent candidates are required to provide a reference from their current academic tutor/advisor. The reference must describe your academic skills and your ability to study abroad. Recommendations from employers, high school tutors or friends are not acceptable. The reference can be sent as part of your application to Inbound.SussexAbroad@sussex.ac.uk.

Choosing your modules

Please read the following carefully so you complete the module section correctly:

- List 6 modules for each term in order of preference; although you will not be taking all of these modules it may be that some modules may be withdrawn or may no longer be offered.
- Read the advisory information on how to select modules before listing them; we will allocate your modules from the ones you choose below so please give this careful consideration.
- If a module has several options listed indicate your preferred option, e.g. in “Period of English Literature” option might be ‘1832-1914’.
- Make sure that you list title, code and level of module.
- If you select computing modules, let us know if you have programming skills and in what language; use the special comments box.
- It is important you select the correct modules for the period you intend to study at Sussex. Autumn teaching means that the module is only taught in the autumn semester; spring teaching means it is only taught in the spring semester. Autumn and spring teaching means the module is taught over two semesters, i.e. a full year. It is not possible to take autumn only of a full year module or to join a full year module in the spring semester.
- Level 3 = year 0 (sub-degree); Level 4 = year 1; Level 5 = year 2; Level 6 = year 3 (final year)
- You are generally expected to take 60 credits per semester and 120 credits for the full year (minimum of 90 and maximum of 150). A minimum of 45 credits and a maximum of 75 credits may be taken in one semester.

Student declaration

I certify that the information given in this application is correct and completed; I understand that the University reserves the right to withdraw registration if this is not the case. I understand that entry to the University is selective and that completion of this form does not guarantee entry.

I understand that I am expected to take a full credit load at the University (120 Sussex credits for one year, 60 for one semester), and may take a lower (minimum 45 Sussex credits) or higher (maximum 75) credit load per terms with permission from my home university.

I understand that my personal data will be processed by the University in accordance with Data Protection legislation and the University's Data Protection Policy, and that my personal data may be processed and shared for the following purposes:

- The information I provide on this application form will be used by the University to consider my admission to the programme and to set up a record for me, which may be in electronic or written form;
- Details of my application, any academic reference and the University's decision about my application may be shared with my home institution;
- If admitted to the University, details relating to my academic progress will be provided to my home institution and / or funding body including my academic results during and at the completion of my programme, as well as any award;
- Any serious academic or behavioural issues may be notified to my home institution and / or funding body. This could include academic problems such as repeated non-attendance, failure to submit assessments or academic misconduct, as well as any student disciplinary matters;
- In the event of a serious welfare emergency, such as physical or mental illness, or an accident, the University may inform my home institution and / or any emergency contacts such as my parents or guardians.

Further information about the University's processing of personal data is set out in our Privacy Notice.

The University of Sussex aims to create an environment that enables all students to participate fully in University life. If you have a disability, impairment or other medical condition, we are able to provide support and adjustments, with your written consent.

Our Student Support Unit works with students who may need support at the University due to a long term condition, including specific learning difficulties, mental health, other conditions and disabilities. They are able to provide advice and information, and can arrange dedicated support and adjustments for your needs.

In order for our Student Support Unit to provide advice and to put reasonable adjustments and other support arrangements in place, the Sussex Abroad team need your consent to share your personal data with the Student Support Unit. Please note that any consideration of how the University can provide support and adjustments is separate to the assessment of your academic suitability.

I give my consent to my personal data being disclosed to the following, for the purpose of assessing my support needs, providing advice and / or putting support arrangements in place:

Signature (digital) and date

Please note that if you do not wish to consent to the Sussex Abroad team disclosing information to the Student Support Unit, the University may not be able to put support arrangements in place in anticipation of your stay. However, this would not prevent you from contacting the Student Support Unit directly yourself upon arrival.

Please note, the data provided by you on this form will be stored and processed according to the University of Sussex's Data Protection Policy and the General Data Protection Regulation.

You can read more about how we process personal data and find out about your rights at the University's online Privacy Notice.
